Take a Bite out of Stanley Marketplace at the CherryArts Festival at Stanley
Enjoy delicious samplings & culinary demonstrations served up by some of Colorado's favorite culinary artists

DENVER – CherryArts Festival at Stanley, the all-new national art, local flavor and creative living event, serves up delicious samplings by local culinary artists all weekend long. The Festival takes place at the yet-to-be-opened Stanley Marketplace on October 24 and 25 with a ticketed Grand Tasting event on October 23.

During Grand Tasting, enjoy samplings from future Stanley tenants with a pairing of beer, spirits and wine from Odell Brewing Company, Stranahan's Colorado Whiskey and William Hill Estate Winery among others. During the remainder of the weekend, explore popular food trucks and experience the culinary artists in action on the Colorado Homes and Lifestyles Kitchen presented by Specialty Appliance Dacor.

Culinary artists include Austin Cuento of Kevin Taylor Restaurant Group, David Lewis of Miette et Chocolate, Noah Heaney of Golden Moon Distillery and many more. Visitors will experience an array of culinary demonstrations from mixology to fall-inspired dishes. Tastings will be encouraged. The full demonstration schedule for the weekend can be found here: <http://bit.ly/1KbErjr>.

In addition to the culinary demonstrations, visitors can view and purchase art from 75 artists, enjoy live entertainment and children's activities, and explore home design vignettes by Colorado Homes & Lifestyles.

CherryArts Festival at Stanley is free to the public on October 24 and 25, with a ticketed Opening Night Grand Tasting event on Friday, October 23. Tickets to the Opening Night Grand Tasting can be purchased at <http://cherryartsstanley.org/buy-tickets-grand-tasting/>.

About Stanley Marketplace

Opening in early 2016, Stanley is no ordinary marketplace. Located at the intersection of the Stapleton and Aurora neighborhoods just east of Denver, Stanley Marketplace is a community of like-minded businesses and people who believe in doing things differently: sustainably, creatively, and with more than the bottom line in mind. The more than 22-acre, 100,000 sq. ft. indoor/outdoor space was once Stanley Aviation headquarters, where airplane ejector seats were engineered and manufactured; now it is an adaptive reuse community hub, home to a park, beer hall and more. Today, the same innovative spirit that once filled this building has been harnessed to offer community members an urban marketplace featuring goods and services from local and independent businesses, as well as a robust philanthropic and community outreach program, including Charity of the Month and First Jobs programs.
